What is the DC "blade length rule"? What's the limit? I want my boarding cutlass...

3 inches. Has to be 3 or less. And a “utility knife” carried for utility purposes (ie no push daggers, etc).

Don't wear a blade openly visible. Keep em low profile.

Unfortunately, Don Siekerman is sick and won't be able to make it.
Whip is now #1 on this op.

Highly recommend a C or D cell flashlight if you have one. Collapsible Batons are a grey area in the law. Unclear. I bring one. But I'm willing to take that risk because I love em.

Good hard gloves, eye pro, helmet. In a pinch you can grab Mechanix gloves and a batters helmet from Walmart.

Never did have anyone show up with "passes" to get in to the elipse. Most of the gang is standing on Constitution Avenue. Sharon and I have gone back to the car to kit up and go back out on the streets. Its nut to butt on the Washington monument grounds and Constitution avenue. More coming constant flow.

FYI

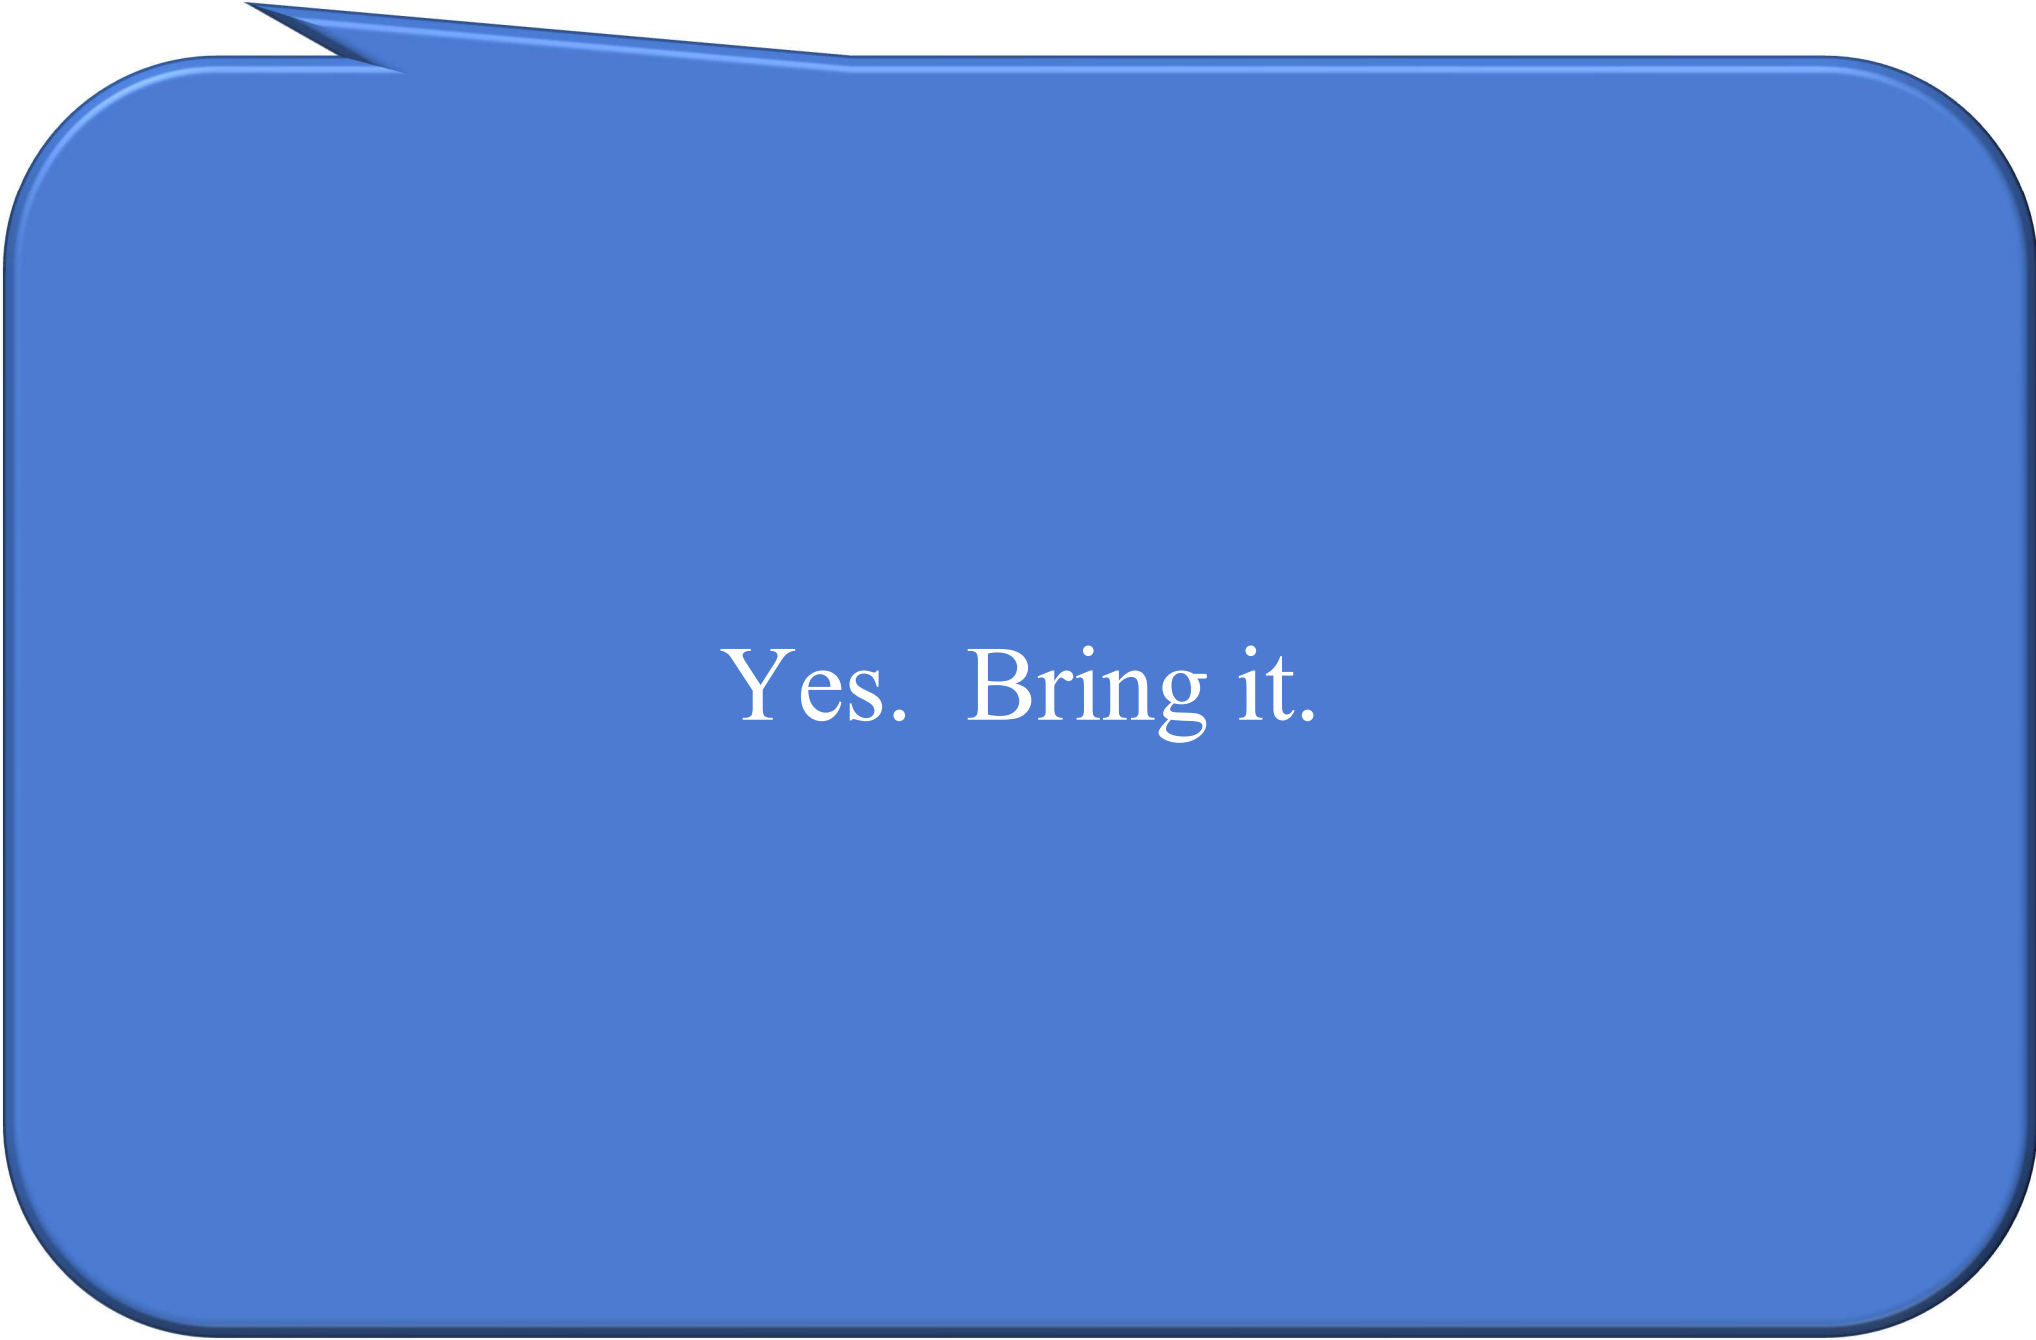

I brought a drone with a 720p cam for recon use, but I am not a proficient operator. Do we have anyone qualified to use it? Do you want it prepped for deployment?

Let me know.

Stewart ... very cool ... seeing may Oath Keeper shirts on the Infowars D.C. feed. I am just praying that this isn't just another rally and speech day, but a day of positive consequence for our country.

As we predicted. I told my guys last night that at 3am it would be stolen. And it was.
